REPORT OF SCHOOL-BOARD.

Nearly all of our schools, the past year, have been under the instructions of teachers, whose previous experience made them mistress of their avocation; therefore good results were obtained. Fault-finding seems to be too common with some of the parents; and handed from parent to child, it causes no small trouble in our schools. Parents should give their sympathy and hearty encouragement to the earnest endeavors of the teachers, rather than to listen to the complaints of their children. If parents would teach their children better obedience at home, they would give the teacher less annoyance at school. The discipline of the scholars at school, depends largely upon the discipline of the children at home. Order in the School-room should be the first requisite; without it, a school is worthless. A teacher may be possessed of all the requirements of an education and yet lack government. The success of a teacher depends greatly upon the management of the school.

Some of our most important text-books, readers and spellers, are greatly deficient in rules and instructions. We ought not to pay our teachers to learn the pupils, that which their books ought to contain. Teachers should thoroughly understand the rudiments of the text-books used in our public schools. Each scholar should review their studies at the beginning of each term, that they might understand the first principles of their books; and they should not be allowed to go over too much ground in their studies. Irregular attendance at school causes a lack of interest on the part of the scholars; and should be regulated by their parents; they should see that their children are at school every day. Tardiness and dismissal should not be allowed by their parents, without any necessary cause. To put the whole thing in a nut-shell; our scholars should be more thoroughly educated. The future progress of our schools depends upon the supervision of the School-board. "A word to the wise is sufficient," but words to the unwise are like chaff thrown before the wind.
